My dear friends:

Tomorrow the conference gets being open, and students once more troope in. (may there be many trooping!) The recipient of delightful knicknacks from two boys and admiral women has not called on them during the so-called holidays, has not written them gratefully and promptly, has not insisted on their getting away for a few days to the east side of the Bay. Yet she loves them and wishes them a Happy New Year! Quentin Henry Canale.
